THE FIGHT IS ON IN DEAD EARNEST

Official Protest Against Formation of Piedmont County.

THREE RESOLUTIONS.

County Commissioners, Board of Education and Farmers' Union Petitions Legislature to Kill the Bill—Reasons For Opposition Set Forth by Each Body—Steering Committee Appointed to Work Against Measure.

At a joint meeting of the County Commissioners, the County Board of Education and the Farmers' Union yesterday afternoon in the court house official protest against the formation of Piedmont county by taking a portion of Guilford and other counties was made by the joint meeting, each body drawing up and unanimously adopting a separate resolution, in which the reasons for opposing the formation of the new county were set forth. These resolutions were in the nature of a petition to the legislature to kill the bill introduced for the formation of the proposed county.

From now on the fight for and against the proposed measure will be waged in dead earnest. For two weeks the county promoters have had an active lobby in Raleigh and every effort has been made to present the matter in a favorable manner from their standpoint. Now, however, another lobby will be set in motion and the legislators will be asked to look at the matter from another viewpoint. Accompany the resolutions of the commissioners will go a detached statement of the financial side of the question, the figures having been carefully compiled by Auditor Abbott from the county records. These figures will not be made public until placed in the hands of the committee having in charge the proposed bill.

A steering committee has been appointed to direct the fight against the measure and for the next two weeks the committee, composed of J. N. Wilson, G. S. Bradshaw, A. M. Scales, R. R. King, E. P. Wharton, J. R. Gordon, E. G. Sherrill, R. D. Douglas, O. L. Sapp and E. J. Justice, will be quite active. It is more than probable that this committee will call a mass meeting of the citizens of the county for next Saturday at which the matter will be more fully discussed. It is stated that a large per cent. of the people of the rural districts of the proposed county are bitterly opposed to the idea of leaving Guilford and trying an unknown sea. Petitions are being circulated and nearly all who are approached are signing the paper.

The resolutions adopted by the commissioners were signed personally by Messrs. Davidson, Boren and Rankin and Mr. Tucker, who had to be out of the city on a fox chase, stated before leaving that his name should also be placed on the resolutions opposing the county. The resolutions follow:

County Commissioners.

To the General Assembly of North Carolina:

The Board of Commissioners for the County of Guilford desire to lay before the members of the Senate and House of Representatives certain reasons why in their judgment said county should not be dismembered and a new county be formed out of portions of said county, and portions of the counties of Davidson and Randolph.

New counties we take it should not be formed, unless by the formation of the same greater convenience can be given to the inhabitants thereof, better facilities for the county government can be had and the general interests of the State can be advanced.

Guilford county as at present situated, is located near the center of the State and in a section of the State which is now showing marked development and growth. It is symmetrically formed, its lines being straight and practically at right angles. It is divided into eighteen townships, which townships are symmetrically formed, their lines being practically at right angles, and each township measuring 4 3-4 by 8 miles.

It is traversed by splendid county roads, and practically every section of the county is reached by railroad. All residents thereof are within easy reach of Greensboro, the county seat, which is located in the center of the said county, no man coming to the county seat having to travel more than about fifteen miles.

At this county seat it has a modern court house with practically every modern facility for the transaction of county business; with large vaults equipped with the latest and most improved appliances for the filing and preservation of the records of the county. It also has a modern jail building where its prisoners may be properly and humanely taken care of. Guilford county also possesses a farm of three hundred acres near the City of Greensboro upon which is located a home for the aged and infirm and a county workhouse, which institutions, by the cultivation of the farm are nearly self supporting.

The financial condition of the county perhaps equals, if it does not exceed, that of any county within the borders of the State, and that too, although the county has been in the forefront of those spending large sums for internal improvement and for the better education of its people.

At the end of the year ending December 1, 1910, there was to the credit of the county after meeting all its obligations, other than bonded indebtedness, the sum of $23,168.35. This statement not including one dollar of the taxes due on the tax list for 1910. This financial condition and the practical example to the State in the way of internal development and advanced ideas has been of much service, we think, to counties around it.

The population of the county has increased during the last ten years from 39074 to 60,497, the county showing a greater increase in population than any other county within the State. In fact, nearly equaling any other two counties within the State.

If the county is dismembered the form and shape of the county will be changed so that instead of a symmetrically formed county consisting of eighteen townships, there will be an irregularly formed county with one of those townships, High Point, entirely taken away, and with three others, viz: Sumner, Jamestown and Deeper River, dismembered, and this without giving greater facilities to the inhabitants of the section taken from the county for county government. In fact from our knowledge of the amounts received by taxation in the past from that section of the county to be taken from Guilford, there is a great likelihood that the new county asked to be formed will be among the list of counties taking from the State more than she would place into its treasury.

Accordingto a statement made by the auditor of Guilford county, the portion of Guilford county cut off has within its borders, considering all kinds of taxable values, about eighteen per cent. of the property of the county subject to taxation. If we give to this section eighteen per cent. of the expenditures for the past year for all purposes of the county there would be a deficit of practically $7,000.00 against that portion of the county. The new county could not hope for a long time to come to have the facilities and modern conveniences which the present county possesses, nor could it without a very high rate of taxation, afford the internal improvement now going on within the county of Guilford in the building of roads and bridges, and the proper development of the county materially. Nor could it afford to have the efficient school system now being conducted and carried on by the county of Guilford.

We respectfully submit that every citizen within the territory proposed to be cut off of Guilford now has every facility to reach the county seat by railroad and by macadam roads, and that in the near future these facilities will be increased by interurban lines, the proposed route of said lines being through this immediate territory coming to Greensboro.

We submit that the county facilities at the proposed county seat could not excel, if equal, that of Guilford county, nor the financial condition of Guilford county and in fact could not hope to be so good, nor could it have the educational advantages which it now possesses.

We' therefore, ask that you decline to pass the bill introduced asking for a new county, and that you leave Guilford county as it is at present.

We attach hereto the statement compiled by the county auditor.

J. A. Davidson, Chairman; W. C. Tucker, W. C. Boren, J. A. Rankin, Board of Commissioners of Guilford County.

County Board of Education.

To the General Assembly of North Carolina:

As there has been introduced in the legislature a bill providing for the establishment of Piedmont county out of portions of Guilford, Davidson and Randolph counties, we, the Board of Education of Guilford county, desire to give reasons why, in our opinion, no portion of Guilford county should be cut off.

Of course, in making this statement we view the question largely from an educational standpoint, as our sole work as a board of education is concerned with that phase of the county's development. The formation of a new county should be not considered from an educational standpoint unless by its creation better schools facilities can be given to the people than can be given to them under the present arrangement of the territory.

As an indication of the interest which has been aroused in education in the part of Guilford that it is proposed to cut off in the formation of the new county, we wish to call your attention to the fact that practically all of the territory has voted a special school tax to increase the efficiency of its schools. In addition to this there has been provided for the children in each district a good house with modern equipment, and the schools now have a term of more than six months. The money for this building and equipment has been secured by appropriations from the building fund of the county, by private donations, and by using some of the district school fund.

Six years ago these districts had very poor houses, practically no equipment, and the school term was only four months. The spirit of education which was aroused about that time had its effect very quickly upon the territory which it is proposed to take from Guilford and make a part of the new county of Piedmont. We believe that these schools which we have taken so much pride in developing would be seriously crippled if the proposed division is accomplished. Below we give some figures which were tabulated for us by the county auditor of Guilford county, as taken from the tax books of 1910:

Gross amount of school money raised in the proposed new territory—property, polls, railroad, bank stock, corporate excess, etc.	$9 958.39
From fines	1,060.00
From State	600.00
From Gordon Act	216.00
Total	$11,834.39
Deductions:
Commissions	$ 730.29
Insolvents, 3 per cent.	298.75
Total	$1,029.04

which leaves the total amount raised for school purposes in the territory that it is proposed to cut from Guilford county $10,805.35.

By reference to the apportionment which was made on the first Monday in January to the territory which it is proposed to cut off from Guilford county, we find that the schools in that territory receive from the general school fund of the county $10,572.00. This is the amount placed to the credit of the schools in that territory, and does not include one cent of the general operating expenses of the school system of the county.

The above figures show that the proposed new territory is receiving from the school fund of the county practically the same amount that it pays in taxes to the school fund. Of course if we were to charge up to that territory its proportionate part of the general operating expenses, the territory would then receive more money from the school fund than it is paying into it.

For the past six years the per capita apportionment in Guilford county has steadily increased at the rate of 10 cents per year until it is now $2.50 for each child of school age. The per capital apportionment of Randolph county was $1.40 last year, and the per capita of Davidson county is $1.85 this year. We do not have the per capita apportionment that Randolph county makes this year.

As the territory which it is proposed to take from Guilford county in the formation of the new county is more thickly settled, and has much more property according to its area than the territory which it is proposed to take from Davidson and Randolph counties,

ANNUAL MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT

Stockholders of Chamber of Commerce.

Session To Be Held In Elks' Club Rooms—New Board of Directors To Be Elected—Considerable Work Accomplished During Past Year—In Sound Financial Condition With Growing Membership.

The annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held Tuesday evening, January 17, in the Elks' Club rooms. The reports of the officers will be read and a number of short snappy addresses made. It is important that all the stockholders be present as a board of directors will be elected at this time.

While it has not been blowing its horn during the past year a considerable amount of work has been accomplished by the organization and the reports of the officers will be a revelation to a large per cent of the stockholders and an agreeable surprise to all. When the Chamber was reorganized less than a year ago there was an indebtedness of something like $2,500 hanging over the old organization. This indebtedness has been paid off, all the running expenses for the year paid and there is a balance of nearly $500 in the treasury at present. There are more than four hundred members of the organization at present, and it is more than likely that a membership campaign will be inaugurated to increase this number from one-third to one-half.

The directors have held their regular monthly meetings and the business has been dispatched in such a manner that the results have been highly satisfactory. The prospects are for a greatly enlarged scope of work for the coming year, for it required no little work to get the organization on its feet, so to speak, even after the reorganization was effected. Now this has been accomplished and the Chamber is in a position to get right down to work and with the hearty co-operation of the stockholders behind the directorate and officers its power in upbuilding Greensboro cannot easily estimated.

Each member should bear in mind the meeting Tuesday night and make a strong effort to be present.

PASSENGERS TRANSFERRED

Freight Wreck Caused Nos. 21 and 22 To Swap Loads Yesterday Afternoon.

A bad freight wreck a short distance east of Durham yesterday afternoon made it necessary for trains No. 21 and 22 to exchange passengers, No. 22 coming back to Greensboro and No. 21 going back to Goldsboro.

The eastbound and the westbound trains had orders to meet at West Durham, but the freight wreck, which consisted of the ditching of seven or eight cars and the destruction of considerable track, upset the calculations of the dispatchers. No. 21, after stopping at Brassfield, which has no telegraph operator, about an hour, crept up to the wreck. No. 22 turned round at Durham and backed to the wreck. Both trains were crowded.

The transfer of passengers which took place about 7:30 o'clock, was a somewhat weird spectacle. By the light of the moon the passengers—men, women and children—made their way across the ditch alongside the roadbed, climbed up the embankment and trekked across an old field for a hundred yards or so before reaching the trains on which they were to resume their respective journeys.

After the transfer of passengers had been made it was something like an hour before the trains started. Four one-horse wagons were picked up from the countryside and slowly and tediously the exchange of baggage and mail was made. It was a tiresome job and many were the exclamations of impatience by the belated passengers before the task was completed.

Nobody was hurt in the wreck. The cars that went off the track were just in front of the caboose, which did not leave the track.

As a result of the wreck passengers from points east of here got in last night at 10:25, just three and a quarter hours behind time.

A clearance sale of many lines. See our page advertisement today. Brown-Belk Company.

SCHEDULES OF THE TWO NEW PASSENGER TRAINS

They Will Be Effective On Next Sunday —Schedule of 111 Will Be Changed Also.

Passenger and Ticket Agent McGlamery has received official notice of the inauguration of additional passenger service between Greensboro and Raleigh, the same to be effective Sunday, January 22. At the same time train No. 111, which now arrives at 6 a. m., will leave Raleigh half an hour later and arrive here at 6:30 a. m. The new trains will be known as Nos. 108 and 131.

No. 108 will leave Greensboro daily at 7:30 a. m. and arrive at Raleigh at 10:40 a. m., making all intermediate stops. No. 131 will leave Raleigh at 6:50 p. m. and arrive in Greensboro at 10 p. m., making all intermediate stops. These trains will carry a baggage car, two coaches and Pullman drawing room sleeping car, the sleeper to be operated between Raleigh and Washington. The sleeper will be handled between Greensboro and Washington on trains No. 31 and 32. The first sleeping car will leave Washington on No. 31 Saturday, Jan. 21, and arrive in Raleigh on No. 108 Sunday morning at 10:40. The first sleeper will leave Raleigh on No. 131 Sunday, Jan. 22, and arrive in Washington on No. 32 Monday morning.

It is understood that this schedule will greatly please members of the traveling fraternity making Greensboro headquarters as they can leave here in the morning and make connections with other trains leaving Raleigh, thus enabling them to go to most any of the larger cities in the eastern part of the state and work it in one day. The change of the schedule of No. 111, making it arrive here at 6:30 a. m. will greatly accommodate the people living in towns east of Greensboro in that they can come to Greensboro and spend nine hours in the city, returning at 3:20 in the afternoon. Heretofore they have been compelled to get up before day to catch the train or come here at noon. This gave them only a few hours in the city unless they returned at midnight or spent the night here. As a whole the improved service will be greatly appreciated.

NEW LAMPS IN USE.

Public Service Company Had Business Section of City Brilliantly Lighted Last Night.

The new 2,000 candle power luminous arc lamps were yesterday installed on circuit No. 1, covering the business section of the city, and the current was turned on last night for the first time. South Elm and Davie and intersecting streets were brilliantly lighted. However, some additional lamps will be installed on Elm street.

While the full moon shone brightly the lamps showed up to good advantage and when dark nights roll around the advantage o fthe lamps over the old ones will be more clearly apparent. Pedestrians were well pleased, if one were to judge by their comments and the merchants—they could not hide their pleasure. The lamps are of the most modern make and are in striking contrast with the old shackly ones.

All the lamps have not yet arrived, but will be here in a few days. As soon as they arrive the entire city will be covered with the new system and the lamps will burn all night and every night the whole year 'round. Preparations are already being made for placing them as soon as they arrive.

Col. W. J. Hicks, superintendent of the Oxford Orphan Asylum, died at Oxford yesterday morning at the ripe age of 83 years.

He had been for thirteen years superintendent of the asylum. Some time ago he resigned and was contemplating spending his last days in retirement, but his services were so much needed that he remained at his post of duty until his death.

He was one of the best loved men in the State, and when his name was mentioned in the later sessions of the Grand Lodge of Masons, it was greeted with great applause.

He leaves two sons, John Hicks, chief auditor of the American Tobacco Co.; W. B. Hicks, lumberman, of Biscoe; and two daughters, Mrs. W. A. Johns, Pittsbury, Pa.; and Mrs. J. Clyde Turner, of Greensboro.

THE CLUBWOMEN DISCUSS DICKENS

Interesting Meeting of Literature Department

Highly Enjoyable Paper by Mrs. Andrew Joyner, in Which Works of Famous Novelist Were Reviewed—Paper by Dr. Harris-Glascock—Readings by Misses Culbreth and Legerton From Dickens' Works—Official Reporter.

One of the best attended and most enjoyable department meetings of the present club year was held yesterday afternoon by the literature department of the Greensboro Woman's Club, at the usual place of meeting, the chairman of the department, Mrs. C. W. Tenney, presiding.

Following the reading of the minutes, the chair called attention to a letter which she had received from Miss Adelaide Fries, of Winston, chairman literature department State Federation, calling for papers in the literary contest which allows each club to submit one paper on each of the subjects chosen—"History of Your Own County" and "What the Study Club is worth to North Carolina."

The program for the day being a study of Dickens, Mrs. Andrew Joyner led with a very thoughtful and delightful paper having for her subject:

"Is Dickens the leading English Novelist?" In a careful and comprehensive review of his works, and an intelligent estimate of this many sided man as author, reformer, and as an intellectual force in the world today, she showed herself a thorough and appreciative student. With an enthusiasm born of early predilections and an admiration strengthened by the calmer judgment of maturer years, she pressed the claims of her favorite as none but a devoted admirer could, defending her position against all adverse criticism.

In the absence of Miss Mitchell, to whom the subject was assigned, Dr. Harris-Glascock read a paper, equally as interesting and well prepared on "Dickens as a Portrayer of English Life."

Miss Culbreth and Miss Ledgerton followed with selected readings from Dickens' school scenes, which emphasized what Mrs. Joyner claimed in her paper—that many of the children who sat in comfortable, well-appointed school houses today owed much of the attractiveness of their surroundings to Dickens, who aroused the public mind and conscience to the importance of the much abused school system.

After informal discussions of the author, the question of an official reporter for the department was brought up, resulting in the election of Mrs. Fairbrother, who was given a rising vote of thanks for her former services in this capacity.

ANOTHER PILFERER

Man Last Night Entered Home of B. W. Terrell and Proceeded to View Premises Uninvited.

Last night about 7 o'clock another one of the lately numerous prowlers that are wont at night to visit the homes, kitchens, and servants' quarters of Greensboro citizens was found in a room at the home of Mr. B. W. Terrell, of 613 Asheboro street.

Mrs. Terrell was at the time in her parlor, when one of the children ran in and told her that a man was in the house. He entered, so she thought, through the front door and finding no man about, proceeded into a bedroom, thence on to the dining room. Mrs. Terrell ran to the store to summon Mr. Terrell, but when he arrived home, the man had departed.

Mr. Terrell said that owing to the darkness on that side of the house where the rascal was discovered, the child could not tell whether it was a white man or a negro.

THE REAL TEST

Why Herpicide Is In Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair vigors may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate Dandruff and stop falling hair?

No, they do not, but Herpicide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbro's Herpicide stands the "test of use."

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.

WIFE SAYS BLONDE WON HER HUSBAND

Church Flirtation Given by Mrs. Fleming as Beginning of the Trouble.

Philadelphia Record.

A church flirtation is given as the beginning of the trouble which resulted yesterday in Mrs. Ida Fleming starting a suit against Ella Richardson for $25,000 damages for the alleged alienation of the affections of the plaintiff's husband, Dr. Benjamin Fleming. Miss Richardson is a member of the same church as the Flemings and the alleged flirtations are said t have taken place in the early part of last year.

A remarkable tale of a young wife's struggles and economies to help her husband is told in the petition of Mrs. Fleming. She says she was married to Benjamin Fleming on April 24, 1892. The husband was ambitious, as was also Mrs. Fleming, and the latter declared that through her self-denial, economy and assistance in earning support for the family her husband was enabled to take a course in medicine at a local college, from which he graduated about six years ago.

During his studies, the wife says, she denied herself all the pleasures of life and assisted Fleming in every way to complete his medical course. Since his graduation the doctor has established a prosperous practice and built up a comfortable home, and the wife says that until the advent of Miss Richardson he was devoted to the plaintiff and their daughter.

Miss Richardson, the defendant, is said to be a young woman of striking appearance and of the blonde type. In the early part of 1910, the affidavit continues Miss Richardson, who attended the same church as the plaintiff and the doctor, by "wiles and persuasion," attracted the attention of Dr. Fleming. She and the doctor became acquainted and since that time, the wife declares, Miss Richardson has frequently visited the home of the doctor and his wife. These visits, it is alleged, were for the purpose of seeking the society of Dr. Fleming and endeavoring to draw his affection away from the plaintiff, to whom it properly belonged.

The visit of the defendant, the affidavit says, were continuous, the last one being as recent as last Friday. By that time the doctor and his wife had become estranged, and it is charged that on that date the doctor forcibly ejected from his apartments the plaintiff and their daughter. At that time, it is averred, Miss Richardson was secreted in the apartment.

The wife also complains that as a result of the defendant's associations and meetings and visits to the doctor his affections for his wife have become entirely alienated, and that for several months he has neglected to provide properly for his family. On the contrary, it is alleged, the doctor is devoting his time and money to Miss Richardson.

EXCITING FOX CHASE.

Party At Pinehurst Enjoyed Fine Sport Last Week.

Pinehurst, Jan. 14.—All Pinehurst is responding to the mellow notes of the horn these beautiful January mornings for the enjoyment of fox hunting under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Twitty of Buffalo, who are here for the season with their fine pack of English and American hounds. The chances are when that group in the hotel corridor isn't talking golf its fox hunting, telling again the story of the weeks best runs, four hours of glorious music in a chase which for length, excitement and variety is rarely equalled.

During the first three hours of the run, every moment "full cry," it was from hillside to swamp and swamp to hillside, the fox seen again and again employing every ruse known to this, the craftiest of the wild kindred—doubling circling, log-hopping, water running, fence walking—but, relentless, the hounds pursued, finally balking a clever effort to double, cutting down the lead and forcing an open sight run dash of three hundred yards which brought the great race to a remarkable climax; noble Roebuck breaking away by a magnificent spurt at the close, grappling in the death grip at full speed and fox and hound rolling over and over for yards before the pack was upon them. A moment later Mr. Twitty fairly flew over an adjoining fence; and the chase was over.

DAY 762. PHONES NIGHT 1442

A Recognition

By ELINOR STEWART CATON

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

In 1873 a negro was tried for a murder that had been committed ten years before. The man was broken down physically and much dejected by the position in which he found himself. He was convicted, and the judge asked him if he had anything to say why sentence of death should not be passed upon him.

"Yes, jedge," said the man in a trembling voice, "I got two things to say why I oughtn't to be strung up in dis no'th'n state, though I wouldn't hab nothin' to say why I oughtn't to be strung up in a south'n state."

"Well what's your first reason?"

"The fus' reason is dat I fought in de wah fo' de union ob dis state wid de udder states."

"Very good. What's your second reason?"

"De second reason is dat when de man was done murdered I was fightin' de 'Federates at de battle ob Gettysburg; darefo' I couldn't 'a' been killin' a man at de same time in de state ob Ohio."

The judge looked inquiringly at the lawyer who had been assigned to defend the convicted man.

"The prisoner didn't tell me this, your honor," said the lawyer. "Why didn't you, Bob?"

"I don't know nothin' 'bout law," replied Bob. "I reckoned ma lawyer done knowed all 'bout dat."

"Your honor," the lawyer interposed, "I conducted the case on the lines of evidence afforded me. Perhaps we may yet elicit some information that will warrant a stay. Bob, when was the battle of Gettysburg fought?"

"Lemme see," said Bob, scratching his head. "I disremember de day, but I do remember dat ma rigiment, marchin' no'th a few days atter de las' day ob de fight, passed leetle boys wid firecrackers celebratin' de Fou'th ob July."

"Is there any one present," asked the attorney, "who can give the date of the battle of Gettysburg?"

"I can," said a man with red hair and beard. "The darky has hit it pretty nearly so far as the day and month are concerned. It was fought during the first few days of July, 1863."

"How do you know that?"

"I ought to know; I was there."

"Bob," pursued the attorney, "were you a soldier in the war?"

"Yes, boss; I was a reg'lar 'listed man, but was detailed by de major fo' to take keer ob his ho'se. When de fightin' was goin' on I tuk a muskit away from a dead man and jined in."

"What regiment did the major whose horse you took care of belong to?" asked the man with the red hair.

"De —th Illinois."

"What was his name?"

"Maja' Swain."

The inquirer started.

"Judge," he said, "there's something singular about this. My name is Swain, and I commanded the —th Illinois at the battle of Gettysburg."

The attorney directed Major Swain to take the witness stand and after getting so much of his evidence as has been given continued the examination as follows:

"Major, did you have a negro servant to take care of your horse?"

"Yes, but not this one. His story, though correct in some points, is incorrect in others. In the first place, the —th Illinois was not a negro regiment, and, in the second, I would not have been permitted to detail a private for a servant."

"I didn't 'list in de —th Illinois," interrupted the prisoner. "I 'listed in de —th Virginia. I was wounded at Fredericksberg and discharged. I jined"—

"That will do," the lawyer interposed. "I will put you on the stand later."

"Don't yo' know me, maja'?" said the prisoner. "I didn't know yo' at first, but I do now."

The major looked suspiciously at the prisoner, and the prosecuting attorney objected to such an irregular way of getting in testimony.

"Are you willing to swear," asked the prisoner's attorney of the witness, "that this man was not your servant on the 1st and 2d of July, 1863?"

"My man," was the answer, "had been wounded shortly before by a bayonet in the breast. I remember that the scar left resembled a heart. I used to tell him he carried his heart on the outside."

"Look a-here, maja'!" the darky cried, tearing open his woolen shirt and exposing a scar resembling a heart.

The witness looked at the scar with wide open eyes, then, leaning over the rail, extended his hand to the prisoner.

"Judge," said the former, "I can vouch for this man. I recognize that scar for the one on the breast of my servant while in the army. I always understood that he received it at the battle of Fredericksburg. During the battle of Gettysburg I needed him, but couldn't find him. Later, during the celebrated charge of the Confederate General Pickett, I saw him kneeling behind a stone wall with a musket leveled at the enemy, and he was one of those who repelled that attack. His present condition prevented my recognizing him."

The case against the negro was ended, and the man who had been instrumental in his acquittal took him again into his service and cared for him.

Even in the harshest winter there may come a breath of spring.

The agency standing next to the missionary society in the civilization of a country is a good roads association.

The Legislature says that Greensboro may have a commission form of government. Thus doth this goodly town add to her laurels as the State's exemplary community.

Lieutenant Peary came within 1.6 miles of the Pole. Congress finds this near enough for the risk and thanks the gentleman for his achievement. With a $6,000 pension and honorable retirement, he ought to enjoy his distiction quite handsomely.

Greensboro is proud of her location and is fortunate in being on the main line of the great Southern railway, but she cannot suppress a wish that the new train had been ordered on and scheduled as a result of competition rather than impending legislation.

We are not enlightened fully as to the exact meaning of the proposed "scientific" reduction of the tariff, but rather suspect that it is a contrivance of some gentleman of Congress with a leaning toward certain American trusts that have developed into a science the matter of robbing the people.

The New York World and the New York Tribune have been debating the question as to whether the House of Representatives is too large. The World says it is so large as to be cumbersome. The Tribune says it isn't. The World is right. There are too many Representatives, too many men being paid $7,500 a year by Uncle Sam without earning it. The average Representative before and after he retires from public life doesn't earn more than $3,000 a year. But, of course, the main objection to the size of the House is that it is, as the World says, cumbersome and unwieldy. In the nature of the case it cannot do its work as thoroughly as a smaller body could.

Andreas Dippel, the impressario, who recently declared that he would become an American citizen because he saw such a great future in this country for grand opera, lost no time in doing so and has already, within only a few weeks' time, organized one of the greatest forces in the world for the production of grand opera in English. The world-famed singers of today cannot vocalize the English text, and they will not undertake the task, unless forced to it. But musical America will never attain a standard equal to that of other nations demand-songs in their own tongue, until voices are more generally trained to render opera and other texts in open and well enunciated English. Dippel saw his opportunity, and he is going to organize musical groups in several large cities, where available talent may be used for both his operas and for "educating" the public to appreciate the art in music that is worth while.

COL. W. J. HICKS.

In the passing of Col. W. J. Hicks, at the ripe age of 83 years, death has removed one of the state's noblest and wisest souls. He was for 13 years the beloved and remarkably efficient superintendent of the Oxford Orhpan Asylum; and so valuable were his services that, during the latest years of his labors in and for that institution, the teachers and other officers there felt that he could not be given up, although he did resign and make his plans to spend his declining years in quiet retirement. It is said on good authority that he wanted to come to Greensboro, and it is most probable that had he lived, Greensboro would have been honored with his worthy and most exemplary citizenship. During the past two years his work at the asylum has been a labor of love, he having declined to accept a dollar of remuneration.

The great and lofty-souled Jack Mills builded the Oxford Asylum and Col. Hicks nourished it to its present strength and usefulness. The Masons and others who are moved to compassion at the sight of a fatherless child will not soon look upon their like again.

we do not see how an annual per capita apportionment for schools can be made in the new county of more than $1.50 to $1.60. This would mean that the schools that are now a part of Guilford county's educational system would be deprived of a considerable part of their revenue.

One of the best services that a board of education can render to the educational system of its county is in the proper management of what is known as the building and equipment fund. We have so directed the operations of the school work in this county, that, notwithstanding the per capita apportionment has been gradually increased each year, we have still been able to replace the old dilapidated buildings with new houses, and to furnish these houses with modern equipment.

We have taken a special pride in this feature of the work, and, from our experience, we do not see how the proposed new county could carry on the work of building and equipping school houses, and, at the same time, provide adequately for the support of the schools. We believe that it is a conservative estimate to say that each child in the territory that it is proposed to cut from Guilford in the formation of the new county of Piedmont would be deprived each year of $.90 to $1.00 for some years at least.

We have reached a point in Guilford where we believe that we are prepared to do some effective work through the schools in agriculture, domestic science and home economics. It is our purpose to try to begin this work in earnest next year, and we are clearly of the opinion that the proposed dismemberment would tend to hamper us in what we propose to do.

Farmers' Union.

To the Senator and Representatives from Guilford County:

As there has been introduced in the legislature a bill providing for the establishment of the county of Piedmont out of portions of Guilford, Randolph and Davidson counties, we, the Farmers' Union of Guilford county, desire to enter our protest against the dismemberment for the following reasons:

1. During the past ten years Guilford county has shown a greater increase in population and wealth than any other county in the state, and it is now prepared to do large things along the lines of good roads, good schools, agriculture, domestic science, etc. There is a movement on foot which will probably result in the establishment of a department of sanitation, and a department of agriculture and domestic science; and, as we are very much in favor of this progressive movement, we wish to enter our protest against anything that might retard this progressive step in our county.

2. From what we have learned of the taxable values in the proposed new county, we are of the opinion that said county would call upon the state for more money than it would pay into the state treasury.

3. We believe that those schools that are situated in the part of Guilford that it is proposed to take off in the establishment of the new county would lose from $.90 to $1.00 per capita for several years to come.

That a committee composed of Dr. J. R. Gordon, H. L. Cannon, W. A. White, Oscar Holt and E. J. White be appointed to transmit these resolutions to the General Assembly.

"I am always worn out in bad weather," complained the overshoes. "Well, I'm generally used up myself," said the umbrella.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all the other diseases put together, and until the last few years was ssupposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucuous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

PROPOSED LAW ENDORSED

Farmers' Union Favors Better Sanitation and Education in Rural Districts.

As was stated last Tuesday morning the County Commissioners are preparing a bill, which the legislature will be asked to enact into law, whereby they may, if it is thought best, employ a superintendent of health, a commissioner of agriculture and a supervisor of domestic science, each official to devote his full time in the interest of the county. This bill is now being prepared.

At the meeting of the Farmers' Union yesterday resolutions heartily endorsing the proposed legislation were unanimously adopted, in which the farmers assured the promoters of their hearty support in the work if it should be undertaken.

"Whereas, We the members of the Farmers' Union of Guilford county have learned with much pleasure that the County Board of Commissioners, acting jointly with the County Board of Education, have held several conferences considering the advisability of employing a county superintendent of health for all of his time, a commissioner of agriculture and a supervisor of domestic science for the purpose of giving instruction in the high schools and to the citizens of the county; therefore be it resolved by the Guilford County Farmers' Union:

"First: That we heartily commend this movement and hope that it will be possible for the County Board of Commissioners and County Board of Education to inaugurate and carry out successfully the three lines of work indicated.

"Second: That we assure the County Board of Commissioners and the County Board of Education of our hearty cooperation in this work if it should be undertaken.

"Third: That this resolution be spread upon the minutes of the County Farmers' Union, and that copies of it be sent to the chairman of the County Board of Commissioners and to the chairman of the County Board of Education."

AN AIRSHIP?

Something With Light on Rear End Sped Over City Last Night.

Last night about eight o'clock there was some little excitement in the streets when a rapidly moving light passed over the city, supposed to be that of an aeroplane. Whatever it was it was making time, going directly east. One absent-minded wag, thinking that, on account of the weather, he was in the midst of summer, remarked that it was only a July fly. But the general opinion based on the altitude of the machine, its speed, and the size and familiar appearance of the light, was that some sky-pilot of the north had come to enjoy the pleasure and sensation of skimming the air in this God-favored climate where spring is wont to come beguiling winter's cold.

County Teachers Meet.

The Guilford County Teachers' Association met yesterday afternoon in the Carnegie Library, a large number of the teachers being in attendance. "McMurry's "How to Teach" was the subject for discussion and an able address was delivered by Prof. J. A. Matheson, of the Normal College. The speaker was heard with interest as he brought out a number of suggestions that will be of practical value to the teachers in their work. An informal discussion followed the address.

Faculty Recital At G. F. C.

A faculty recital will be given at Greensboro Female College on Tuesday evening, the 17th, at 8:30 o'clock, by the members of the faculties of the music and expression departments of that institution. The public is cordially invited.

Notice.

There will be a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Guilford Battle Ground Company in the directors' room of the Greensboro National Bank on Friday, January 20th, 1911, at 4 o'clock p. m. J. W. FRY, Vice President.

DELIGHTFUL SOCIAL AFFAIR.

Mrs. I. W. Murphy Guest of Honor At Function In Wilmington.

Wilmington Star: Mrs. C. C. Covington entertained yesterday afternoon at a most delightful reception at her lovely home on Grace street. The reception was given in honor of her attractive guests, Mrs. I. W. Murphy, of Greensboro, and Misses Margaret and Norah Thompson, of Baltimore.

The color scheme was red and green, which was carried out very prettily. The drawing rooms were decorated with greens, palms and smilax, the whole ceiling being covered with vines overhead; the parlors were principally decorated with candles. The hours of the reception were from four to six, during which a large number of guests called, and it was said by many to be one of the prettiest affairs of its kind that has taken place in the city in some time. Mrs. Covington was assisted in receiving by Mrs. I. W. Murphy, Mrs. E. L. Prince, Mrs. W. R. Sullivan and Misses Norah and Margaret Thompson. The punch bowl was presided over by Mrs. R. W. Hicks and Mrs. E. K. Bryan, assisted by Misses Atha Hicks, Nannie and Page Humphreys. The other ladies who assisted in the dining room and parlors were Mesdames Philander Pearsall, C. N. Weathers, W. L. Beery, W. B. Cooper, Misses Louise and Eva Beery, Janie Dunn, Maude Bulluck, Ruth Shaw, Eugie Woodruff, Lillie Taylor, Alma Peschau, Elizabeth Rieger and Frankie Beery.

Mrs. Covington last night entertained in honor of the young ladies who assisted at the reception, and in attendance were a number of the young men of the city. The evening was spent very pleasantly by all present.

NEW BOOKS AT LIBRARY.

Number of Publications Ready For Circulation Tomorrow.

The Public Library offers for circulation tomorrow two valuable sets of 12 volumes each which are especially adapted to the service of busy housekeepers and the mothers of little children.

One of these sets is called the American School of Home Economics. Of its twelve volumes three include chemistry, bacteriology and hygiene of the home. One is on household management, one on food and dietetics, one on the principles of cooking, one each on personal hygiene and home care of the sick. Two volumes treat separately the care of children and study of child life and there is a volume on textiles and clothing.

Each of these books has its own excellent index and all seem well fitted to solve many perplexing problems of the household.

The other set consists of the 12 beautiful volumes of the After School Library attractively bound, charmingly illustrated and a fitting complement to Home Economics since it is especially adapted to entertainment of the home circle.

There are four volumes of delightful stories including classics and Fairy Tales, Mystic Legends and Animal Stories. One volume is filled with Travel and Adventure, one is a book of History and another one of collected biography, one is on the Wonders of Science, one on Art and Music and one each on Poetry, Natural History and the Ideal Home.

Some of these books will be of valued service to teachers, Others will be warmly welcomed by the mothers of those little people who never tire of fairy lore. While others still as the name implies are intended as an encouragement and incentive to the best reading for "Children of a larger growth."

These books are edited by M. H.U. Matre, and they constitute a delightful modern type of the "Peter Parley Tales" which were a feature in many libraries of fifty years ago.

Both these sets are now ready for use in the circulating department of our library where they will be especially appreciated by home makers and the mothers of little children.

LEE'S BIRTHDAY

Daughters of Confederacy Will Hold Appropriate Exercises Thursday.

The Daughters of the Confederacy have arranged an attractive program for Lee's birthday, to take place in Smith Memorial building at 3:30 p. m. Jan. 19. One of the most interesting features will be the presentation of a large portrait of General Lee by the Daughters of the Confederacy of the Guilford Chapter to the Greensboro city library. The presentation speech will be made by Dr. Mann, superintendent of the city schools, and the acceptance speech will be by Mr. E. P. Wharton on behalf of the library. The music is in the very competent hands of Mrs. Janie Foushee, and a treat can be expected by the music lovers from this part of the program.

The public is cordially invited to be present, especially the veterans and any Daughters of the Confederacy that may be visiting in Greensboro at that time.

Building Permits.

Building Inspector Milton yesterday issued three permits. One was to Miss Bettie Caldwell for improvements on her residence on South Ashe street. The others were to J. T. B. Shaw for a seven room house on Guilford avenue, costing $1,800, and a four room house on Gibson street, costing $500.

To Attend Funeral of Father-in-Law.

JUST Rheumacide IT CURES

Rheumatism and Blood Diseases
The cause of rheumatism is excess uric acid in the blood. To cure rheumatism this acid must be expelled from the system. Rheumatism is an internal disease and requires an internal remedy. Rubbing with oils and liniments may ease the pain, but they will no more cure rheumatism than paint will change the fiber of rotten wood.

Cures Rheumatism To Stay Cured.
Science has discovered a perfect and complete cure called Rheumacide. Tested in hundreds of cases, it has effected marvelous cures. Rheumacide removes the cause, gets at the joints from the inside, sweeps the poisons out of the system, tones up the stomach, regulates the bowels and kidneys. Sold by druggists at 50c. and $1; in the tablet form at 25c. and 50c., by mail. Booklet free.

Nothing cures skin troubles so quickly as Hancock Sulphur Compound. To beautify the complexion and remove black heads and pimples, use Hancock Sulphur Ointment. 25c. Mrs. Evelyn Garst, of Salem, Va., writes: "Three years ago I had a rough place on my cheek, it would burn and itch. I was fearful it might be of a cancerous nature. I used different preparations, but nothing ever helped it. One bottle of Sulphur Compound cured me completely. I recommend it to any one having any skin disease." INCURABLE.

Some Interference Wireless Operators Cannot Overcome.

Few are the steamer passengers who fail to visit the wireless office aboard ship to watch the operation of the instruments and to question the operator. Needless to say, the technical understanding of the well meaning visitors is a variable quantity. The operator must listen to wondering exclamations, original suggestions for the improvement of the service, discourses on the relations between wireless telegraphy and spiritualism and other doubtful topics with uniform courtesy. At times, however, the strain is too great. It was a lady passenger with an eye for details who came to the wireless room and looked wonderingly in.

"Oh, here's the wireless! May I come in? Isn't it wonderful to think of sending those—those waves—you call them waves, don't you? How fascinating to work at this! Are those jars filled with water?"

"Those are condenser jars, madam, quite empty."

"Really? I don't believe I could ever understand it. That coil of wire looks like a birdcage."

"That is the inductance helix."

"What are those things over your ears?"

"The receiving telephones."

"Then you have telephone connection too. One can hardly keep up with the times these days. What does that coil do?"

"That is the receiving tuner and interference preventer."

"Wonderful! Does it keep out all interference?"

"Not all," replied the operator wearily. "Some kinds of interference can't be tuned out; we just have to stand it."—Youth's Companion.

EIGHT CENTS A DAY.

Workers' Pay In England When Board Was a Shilling a Week.

There was a time when a workman in England received 8 cents a day as an ordinary wage, when skilled artisans commanded 12 cents a day and when women worked in the field at such tasks as reaping straw, hoeing, planting beans and washing sheep for 2 cents a day, and a wise student of the subject has expressed the opinion that the British workman of that day was better off than he has ever been since then.

That sounds paradoxical. But the explanation is this: The workman who sold his services for 8 cents a day could buy good beef or mutton for 1½ cents a pound. Wheat cost him on the average only 18 cents a bushel. He could get board for 12 to 16 cents a week. The pay he would receive for fifteen weeks' services would suffice to purchase a supply of suitable foodstuffs, according to the standard of his time (consisting of wheat, malt and oatmeal), to maintain his family for an entire year.

Under these circumstances 8 cents a day—increased to 12 cents in harvest time—was a fair wage, and "times were good" for the average workman —McClure's Magazine.

The emergency fund committtee of the Social Study Club held an interesting meeting at the association rooms yesterday morning. This club, which was organized a year ago for the purpose of making a study of Greensboro with a view to intelligently adapting the work of the association to local needs, has this year taken over the social department of the association work. Aside from the social work, an emergency fund committee has been appointed by the club, whose work is that of raising funds to be used in such cases of emergency as are frequently presented to the association and which cannot be provided for from the general funds. The plan adopted at yesterday's meeting was that of taking orders for salads, sandwiches, pattees, hand painted tally cards, place cards, etc. This should prove a great convenience to hostesses. Mrs. W. A. Hewitt is chairman of this department of the club and will receive orders. Mrs. W. E. Allen is president of the Social Study Club.
